Dear Burt,

[redacted] of your firm, upon separating from assignment with us abroad, requested that we review and, if we approved, forward to him his personal notes regarding System 3. He also requested that we furnish him a copy of the System 3 Test Set Theory Tape and Recordings.

25X1A

Would you please advise [redacted] that we have carefully reviewed this matter, and in absence of any specific showing of a need, in connection with his present duties, of access to the System 3 Test Set Theory Tape and Recordings, which are classified, that we cannot furnish them to him at this time. Would you also advise [redacted] that we have carefully reviewed his personal notes which we have deemed as correctly classified "Secret." Whereas we recognize his property right to the physical composition of this material, we are concerned that the equipment and procedures necessary to the proper storage of this material under security regulations might not at all times be available to him. Therefore, we desire to maintain custody of this material for him until such time as it might be declassified or until his assignment might require that he have further need of information concerning this Project.

Regards,
